In accordance with current regulation, Tikehau IM is making this document available to investors and potential investors.

This report is produced as part of Tikehau IM's portfolio management activities on behalf of third parties, as regulations require the annual presentation of the five main execution venues and market intermediaries in terms of trading volume and execution quality, by category of financial instrument, on which the management company has executed client orders.

It presents the list of the five main execution venues by category of financial instrument for the year 2023, from January 1, 2023 to December 31, 2023, in accordance with the technical standards « RTS 28 » Commission delegated regulation (EU) 2017/576 and article 65 (5) COMMISSION DELEGATED REGULATION (EU) 2017/565.

3. REMINDER OF ORDER EXECUTION METHODS BY TIKEHAU IM

Tikehau IM's best selection and best execution policy is available on its website. It also applies in full to transactions made as part of portfolio management on behalf of third parties.

Tikehau IM, for the execution of orders resulting from the managers' investment decisions on behalf of the managed portfolios:

- May use market intermediaries or “brokers” selected in advance to execute orders (particularly on regulated markets of which Tikehau IM is not a member), or,
- Execute orders itself - outside regulated markets of which Tikehau IM is not a member - on so-called “organized” markets (such as « Multilateral Trading Facility » - MTF) and over-the-counter (OTC). Transactions are then executed against counterparties, which execute transactions for their own account (some of which may be systematic internalisers for certain categories of financial instrument, such as bonds within the meaning of the MIFID II Directive).
